

Local Tax Loss Threat Stirs Up Lansing Scrap

Prayers Said In Boston For Slain Pastor

BOSTON (AP)—Negro women knelt and prayed outside the home of Mrs. James J. Reeb. They were expressing their sorrow, and the sorrow of millions of others over the death of her husband.

Mrs. Reeb and her father-in-law, Harry D. Reeb, had returned from Birmingham, Ala., in a four-engine C-140 jet provided by President Johnson.

She was then faced with the painful task of informing her three youngest children, Karen, 7, Anne, 8, and Steven, 4, that their father was dead. Her older son, John, 13, already knew.

As she returned, expressions of regret and shock came from all walks of life.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, said, a "sense of outrage that grips this land today will become a great and added force to achieve justice for all men."

Reeb, a Unitarian minister, was attacked and beaten Tuesday night by a group of whites during racial demonstrations in Selma, Ala. Reeb, also white, died Thursday in a Birmingham hospital.

"Mrs. Reeb is not a bitter woman," said John Sullivan, executive director of the New England region of the American Friends Service Committee. He also returned from Alabama Friday with Reeb's widow and father.

He said she is clearly and visibly impressed by the messages of condolence and words of support from the President on down.

Marie Reeb had not wanted her husband to go to Selma. But, Sullivan said, "she knew that Jim felt any cause worth fighting for was worth risking his life for."

Mother And Six Children Perish In Morning Fire

READING, Pa. (AP)—A mother and her six children died early today when a fast-spreading fire raced through their home in a crowded section near downtown Reading.

Firemen said the seven victims apparently were still in bed when the fire broke out about 7 a.m. Dense smoke and showering, crackling sparks prompted first firemen on the scene to summon more aid. Despite the crowded neighborhood, no other houses were damaged.

Firemen tentatively identified the victims as Margaret Ambrose, and her children, Louis 5, Christine 6, Sophia 7, Scott Michael, David and Keith. They had no age for Mrs. Ambrose and three of the children.

Romney On Air Too Much Now, Ferency Says

DETROIT (AP)—Democrats face a "sound barrier" erected by Gov. George Romney's public relations staff, charges Democratic state chairman Zolton Ferency.

Ferency, in a talk prepared for delivery at a 17th District Democratic conference in Detroit, said: "Last month an agent from the Republican governor's office met with several leading figures in Michigan's broadcast industry and concocted an ingenious scheme to saturate the airwaves with Romney propaganda."

The governor, he said, "has established what appears to be a propaganda ministry operating out of the executive office with 24 hour service."

Romney press secretary Charles Harmon replied that a member of the governor's staff did meet with representatives of radio and television to determine how the public can best be informed through their media.

"To describe this as propa-

Wallace Invited To White House

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace left by plane this morning for Washington to meet with President Johnson at the White House for a discussion of the current racial situation in Alabama.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil rights demonstrators who carried civil disobedience to President Johnson's doorstep continued around-the-clock picketing of the White House today.

There was, in fact, the prospect of intensified protest

Dirksen Calls For Firm Stand Against Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said today the United States has "blown the trumpets of retreat too long" in dealings with Russia and that it is time to take a firm stand against the Communists.

Dirksen made the statement on a television-radio program taped with Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, for broadcast in the Midwest. It follows criticism leveled at him Friday night by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for calling for a "no concession-no deal" policy toward the Soviet Union.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in a speech at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Friday night scored what he called "flag-waving professional patriots" and said they are making it difficult to reach any accommodation with Russia.

Object Of Insults

"Those Americans who are most vociferous in objecting to the ambitions of Communism are also the most extravagant in their demands on the Communists," the Arkansas senator said.

Fulbright disputed the contention of Dirksen and House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan at a news conference recently that the United States is always giving in and getting nothing in return in its dealings with Russia.

Noting that the Russians backed down in Iran in 1946, in the Berlin blockade in 1949 and in Cuba in 1962, Fulbright said: "The fact of the matter is that we have had some notable successes—or victories, if you like—in the cold war. Hard as it is to believe, the Russians may marching once Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace holds an expected White House conference with Johnson. Wallace sought an appointment Friday night and the President responded with an invitation to come any time that is convenient to you."

An endless chain of placard-carrying marchers paced steadily up and down Pennsylvania Ave. in front of the Executive Mansion, seeking to dramatize a plea for stronger federal measures in support of violence-plagued efforts to register more Negro voters in Selma, Ala.

Some pickets resorted to strong measures of their own Friday, darting into the street and, with arms linked, sitting on the asphalt to block traffic during the evening rush hour.

Scores of police swarmed after them and, dealing out rough treatment to some of the white and Negro demonstrators, hustled 36 men, women and teen-agers into paddy wagons.

The prisoners were booked on disorderly conduct charges.

Minutes earlier, four white women had been hauled away after sitting down and blocking traffic at a major exit road from the White House. All this followed by less than 24 hours the end of an unprecedented sit-in demonstration inside the White House.

Some pickets who sat down in Pennsylvania Ave. resisted police efforts to carry them to patrol wagons. In some cases, officers jabbed the sit-downers with their toes, prodded ribs with night sticks and, in at least one instance, threw a young man bodily into a wagon.

Police officials, apparently anxious to avoid any charges of brutality, lectured subordinates they judged over-zealous in carrying out the shoving, hauling street-clearing operation.

For a time, traffic was diverted to other nearby cross-city routes while order was restored.

Promise Of Hike To Montgomery Peps Marchers

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—An aide to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. drew cheers from weary Selma demonstrators today when he told them that a proposed march from Selma to Montgomery would be held "come hell or high water" no matter what a federal judge rules in a court hearing.

The statement by the Rev. Hosea Williams boosted the lagging spirits of the demonstrators who have maintained a prayer vigil in the streets of Selma since Wednesday night when police halted their attempted march on the Dallas County Courthouse.

The demonstrators grew impatient after another civil rights leader, William S. Greer, told them earlier that King had forbidden any further attempts to march to the courthouse until the federal hearing at Montgomery was ended.

They have been trying to keep up their spirits by singing and dancing.

The demonstrators, who have been joined by white priests and nuns, say they want to hold a memorial service at the courthouse for the Rev. James Reeb, a 38-year-old white Boston minister who died Thursday night at a Birmingham hospital. Reeb was beaten Tuesday by a group of white men in Selma.

Williams, who returned to Selma from the Montgomery court hearing where he testified, asking the group to "be patient and tolerant" with Negro leaders.

"I don't know how Judge Frank M. Johnson will rule, but I will tell you this, we will

Girl, 17, Charged With Stabbing Of Ball Player

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Janice C. Bowen, 17, of Detroit was arraigned in Ann Arbor Municipal Court Friday on a charge of felonious assault in the stabbing of a Dexter high school basketball player last week.

Chelsea Police said Miss Bowen stabbed Ron Mull in the thigh following the Dexter-Willow Run tournament game played at the Chelsea High School.

She demanded examination at her hearing Friday. She was released on $250 bond and her examination date was set for March 25.

New Schedule Of Assessing Brings Trouble

LANSING (AP)—Temper in the Capitol are rising over a threatened drop in local tax revenues resulting from a new assessment schedule being used for the first time this year by some 1,800 local assessors.

The new schedule, sent to the local units by the State Tax Commission last October, will cost them more than $10 million in revenue in the coming fiscal year, both supporters and opponents agree.

Opponents say the governor will have to act to prevent a severe tax loss; the director of the commission says only the legislature can do something, and Gov. George Romney is awaiting written statements on the problem from county officials.

Session Boisterous

The revision of the assessors' manual is intended to help ease into the new state constitution's requirements that by next Jan. 1 all property be assessed at a maximum of 50 per cent of true cash value and that assessments be uniform both for real and personal property.

The fight reached the floor of the House and Senate earlier this month and Romney's office Friday morning. What was intended as a small meeting between Romney and a handful of assessors snowballed into boisterous free-for-all between Romney and about 50 county assessors and supervisors representing most of southeastern Michigan.

Romney and Rep. Joseph Snyder, D-St. Clair Shores, leader of the opposition, engaged in several heated exchanges and Romney became especially "firm," as he put it, when he demanded to know how many of those present could promise they would not be back in a year asking for another deferral. Only about half raised their hands.

Not Enough Notice

At the end of the inconclusive hearing, Romney asked them to send him written explanations of their position.

The House passed a resolution two weeks ago asking the commission to delay the new schedule until Dec. 31. But the resolution reached the commission on Friday, while local assessing boards were to meet and draw up their rolls the following Monday, said commission chairman Robert Purnell.

Opponents say the new schedule will remove $1.5 billion from assessment rolls. Purnell says new building in the state last year came to $1.5 billion.

Opponents have indicated they were not given enough notice and that the changes were not explained to them fully. And because of the scheduling of it, they do not have enough time to schedule millage elections to make up the loss in revenue.

Brooklyn Train Stabbing Fatal

NEW YORK (AP)—A white youth was stabbed to death by two Negroes on a Brooklyn Subway train late Friday night, police reported.

The victim, Andrew A. Mornille, 18, of Brooklyn, was stabbed several times about the face and back of his head, police said.

The killers fled. Motive for the crime was not known. Police said Mornille's wallet with about $5 in it was found on his body.

Detective Capt. Edwin J. Lester gave this account:

At about 11:30 p.m., on a northbound Independent line "A" train, at least two young Negro men were seen running after three Negro girls through the second car into the first.

At the Nostrand Avenue station, the three Negro girls ran back into the second car, followed by about 10 other passengers. About the same time, someone shouted: "Somebody was just stabbed!"

Police have found no witnesses to the slaying.

Bus Driver Keeps Beard, Loses Job

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dave Hall, 27, lost his bus-driving job Friday, but kept his goatee.

Hall has had the goatee about six months, but only recently the bus company ordered him to shave it off. When he refused, the company suspended him, saying it was policy that drivers be clean shaven.

Hall said "there's a lot of principle involved here. It goes deeper than a beard. It's freedom."

Soviets Accuse Chinese Of Starting Moscow Row

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union launched a press campaign today against Chinese students at Moscow universities after accusing them of plotting violence against Soviet militiamen guarding the U.S. Embassy.

Pravda, the official Communist party organ, published a Soviet note to Peking protesting the students' attack on the embassy March 4 and also three letters from readers which called the action "outrageous."

The letters said the attack was not a demonstration against imperialism but a "hooligan venture." They called for severe punishment of the Chinese who took part.

The demonstration had been called to protest U.S. air raids against North Viet Nam.

The note and the publicity in Pravda hinted that any repetition of such action might lead to the students' expulsion from the Soviet Union.

The Chinese, meanwhile, were reported considering calling their students home.

The Soviet note rejected

'Bugs' Planted In White House

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Chester Clifton, military aide to President Johnson, was quoted Friday by the Texas Tech newspaper, the Tormentor, as saying that "bugging devices" create a security problem at the White House.

Clifton, here to address the Southwestern Journalism Congress at Texas Tech College, told students that the electronic listening devices were planted by possible foreign agents and by visitors in an effort to pick up conversations, the newspaper said in a copyrighted story.

"A piped music system plays throughout the White House 24 hours a day because we have found that it interferes with the operation of these bugging devices," the story quoted him as saying.

The military aide was quoted as saying that when President Johnson uses the telephone the music is turned up to help prevent interception of his conversation.

The student newspaper said Clifton declined to discuss the technical details of the devices or methods used to detect them.

Pope Will Have Easter Mass On Basilica Steps

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will break with tradition to say Easter Mass outdoors on the steps of St. Peter's Basilica.

The Vatican announcement Friday said that following the Mass the Pope will deliver his annual Easter message to the world at noon. Then he will give his traditional blessing from the loggia above the basilica entrance looking over St. Peter's Square.

Pope Paul's coronation ceremony on June 30, 1963, also was held in front of the basilica instead of inside.

Vandals Damage Old Roman Ships In Tiber Sheds

ROME (AP)—Six Roman ships from the Third Century, kept in wooden sheds near the mouth of the Tiber, were found today to have been badly damaged, apparently by vandals.

The Rome Superintendency of Monuments and Antiquities said the damage was caused by axes and fire. It said it was possible that vagabonds seeking warmth chopped into the vessels for firewood.

The ships, 45 to 75 feet long, were found between 1957 and 1960 while excavation was going on at Fiumicino at the edge of the Tyrrhenian Sea for construction of an airport.

Steel Contract Talks Held Up

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Bargaining on wages and fringe benefits, scheduled for next week at basic steel contract talks, may have to be put off, sources in the United Steelworkers Union say.

These sources said Friday that good progress has been made on local complaints and grievances since the talks resumed Tuesday after a two-month layoff for the union's quadrennial presidential election talks have been recessed for the weekend.

However, there are still hundreds of local complaints pending at the 11 separate negotiating sessions involving the nation's major steel producers. U.S. Steel Corp., the country's largest steelmaker which usually sets the pace in contract talks, is scheduled to discuss "contract obligations" early next week.

However, a steelworkers source, who has attended the sessions, said it is unlikely the hard bargaining can be started at all next week. Negotiators are faced with a May 1 strike deadline which the union has refused to extend.

All 11 producers usually present a united front and the industry has let it be known that it won't accept a contract that exceeds two per cent in wages and benefits.

The union apparently is accepting this as a flat offer of eight cents. Published estimates of the union's demands range as high as 25 cents an hour in money alone and more than 40 cents for the whole package.

The USW estimates the current average wage is $3.30 an hour plus fringe benefits worth $1.07 an hour.

Escanaba River Strip Picked For Trout Control

LANSING (AP) — Approximately 21 miles of the Escanaba and Little Manistee rivers in northern Michigan will be set aside as "quality trout fishing areas" the State Conservation Department has announced.

Regulations will limit fishing to artificial lures. In addition, there will be a 10-inch size limit, three inches more than the regular seven inches.

The new regulations for the areas will become effective with the April 24 opening of the trout season.

Coming under control in Delta County will be a 6.8-mile section of the Escanaba River downstream from the Boney Falls dam to the County Highway 519 bridge.

Special areas on the Little Manistee River will be a seven-mile stretch from Spencer Bridge to Johnson's Bridge in Lake County and a 6.9-mile stretch from the west boundary of the U.S. Forest Service Bear Track campground, Lake County, to Nine Mile Bridge, Manistee County.

Establishment of the three special areas will put approximately 52 miles of northern streams under quality fishing controls when the trout season opens next month. Two other areas, covering about 31 miles designated as special areas last fall.

Legislation passed last year empowered the department to set up such special trout fishing controls on as much as 100 miles of streams in the state.

Spacemen May Fly March 22

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency said Thursday the first orbital flight of two astronauts in a Gemini spacecraft may be attempted Monday, March 22.

Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young have been assigned to make the three-orbit flight from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Grissom, an Air Force major who will be 39 on April 2, would thus become the first human being to venture into space twice. He made the second sub-orbital flight on a manned Mercury capsule, the Liberty Bell 7, on July 21, 1961, attaining a height of 116 miles and traveling 254 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

Young, 34, a Navy lieutenant commander, will be the first into orbit among the astronauts named after the selection of the original seven Mercury team members.

Adult Education Program Opens In Nahma Area

NAHMA — An organization meeting was held Thursday evening at the Nahma Township School for the purpose of enrolling prospective students in the new Adult Education program.

This program is being sponsored by the Nahma Board of Education under the direction of Frank Stupak. Stupak stated that additional assistance has been promised by the Bay de Noc Community College and the extension service of Michigan State University.

Three areas will be covered in the two hour weekly classes and will stress job efficiency, learning a new vocation and awarding of high school diplomas. Teachers, Stanley Arnold, Mrs. Ruth Ann Ritter and Frank Stupak of the Nahma faculty will have classes in typing and English and Mrs. Ivan Shafer will hold a course in knitting. Initial prospects show nine interested in obtaining high school diplomas, 22 in typing and from 10 to 17 in knitting.

A tentative schedule has been set up with the first knitting class Wednesday evening, March 17. The typing and English classes will be held Friday evening, March 19. All classes will begin at 7:30 and there will be a $3 fee for the 12 week courses. Enrollments are still open and will be taken any time during the courses.

Stupak said the program which has modest beginnings, will be enlarged next year. He noted that it is the "hope to develop a total program that will encompass pre-school children, potential dropouts, and adults who are interested in obtaining greater educational opportunities."

Governor Slips To Taxi Driver, Blames Drinking

CHICAGO (AP) — "I got drunk," he told newsmen.

Former West Virginia Gov. William Casey Marland, 46, thus summed up his slide from politics to his current occupation: taxicab driver.

Marland was recognized Friday by a newsman after he ate a fried chicken dinner — "all you can eat for $1.25"—in the basement cafeteria of a YMCA, where he lives for $12 a week.

At first reluctant to discuss his personal life, the stocky, dark-haired cab driver later called a news conference in the office of the president of Flash Cab Co., where he has been employed since August 1962.

Marland attributed his fall to drinking. He was top student in his law school graduating class and the youngest governor in West Virginia's history.

"I got drunk," he told newsmen.

"I fell apart because of my drinking."

"I haven't had a drink in nearly four years," he added. "I'm getting myself together again."

For the conference, Marland wore baggy pants and a blue work shirt and tie.

Marland recounted his life since he left the 28-room governor's mansion in Charleston, W. Va., where he was $12,500-a-year chief executive from 1953 through 1956.

Marland was prevented by law from succeeding himself as governor. He lost a bid for the U.S. Senate in the 1956 general election and was defeated in the 1959 Democratic Senate primary. After practicing law, he said, he came to Chicago in 1959 to work for the West Kentucky Coal Co.

"I thought a change of scene might be the answer," said Marland. But in 1961, he said, he lost his job with the coal firm because of drinking.

"I became a member of Alcoholics Anonymous, and they helped me a great deal," he said. "Since then, for the most part, I've been driving cabs."

Marland was asked why he hadn't gone into law practice, even though he is a member of the Illinois bar.

"Why? Why, I'd fallen apart. I took a regular job because I needed a vehicle to help my character. Driving a cab is a good job for character composition."

Marland's wife, Valerie, and his four children, aged 7 to 21, live in Barrington, a suburb northwest of Chicago. Mrs. Marland teaches high school there, Marland said he visits his family on weekends.

Board Opposes Track Betting

LANSING — The Board of Directors of the Michigan Council of Churches in recent session at the Lansing YMCA, announced grief and concern over the brutal treatment of Negro demonstrators in Selma, Alabama, and vigorous support for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, and Senate Bill No. 144 which would abolish pari-mutuel race track wagering.

The Board also endorsed the March 3 Statement of the Council's Executive Committee opposing dog racing, Sunday liquor sales, and supporting dissemination of birth control information and state tax reform.

For the first time in many years, the Michigan Legislature has an opportunity to go on record against pari-mutuel horse wagering, the Board reported. Senate Bill No. 144 would abolish the Racing Law of 1959.

"We are in support of this bill. We believe there is a direct relation between gambling, legal and illegal, and organized crime. It is our hope to help stimulate in 1965 the creation of a Citizen's Council on gambling, and Organized Crime."

"We hope the public hearing on SB No. 144, Thursday, March 18, 7:30 p. m. will be widely attended by those citizens who see behind the apparently innocent glamour and fun of the race track, the forces of the criminal underworld that prey upon, and corrupt government, law enforcement agencies, and businesses as well as vulnerable individuals. Now is the time for Michigan legislators to study in depth the reality behind the facade of pari-mutuel wagering."

"Students of the underworld have identified again and again the mechanism whereby legal gambling aids and abets illegal gambling. It has been demonstrated conclusively that legalizing gambling does not eliminate or reduce illegal gambling. The Churches of Michigan are opposed to both," the Board stated.

"We are in support of this bill. We believe there is a direct relation between gambling, legal and illegal, and organized crime. It is our hope to help stimulate in 1965 the creation of a Citizen's Council on gambling, and Organized Crime."

"We hope the public hearing on SB No. 144, Thursday, March 18, 7:30 p. m. will be widely attended by those citizens who see behind the apparently innocent glamour and fun of the race track, the forces of the criminal underworld that prey upon, and corrupt government, law enforcement agencies, and businesses as well as vulnerable individuals. Now is the time for Michigan legislators to study in depth the reality behind the facade of pari-mutuel wagering."

"Students of the underworld have identified again and again the mechanism whereby legal gambling aids and abets illegal gambling. It has been demonstrated conclusively that legalizing gambling does not eliminate or reduce illegal gambling. The Churches of Michigan are opposed to both," the Board stated.

Peninsula Mine Valuations Cut

LANSING (AP) — Iron and copper mines in the Upper Peninsula have been assessed at $40.22 million this year by the State Tax Commission, nearly $8.9 million less than last year.

The figure reflects a marked decline in iron mine assessments, outweighing a higher value placed on copper producing operations.

This year's assessments of iron mines, which do not include beneficiation plants covered by a specific tax, slipped to $23.9 million, a drop of almost $10 million from 1964.

Responsible for a large part of this is a recent change in assessing iron mines according to local property values, said the State Conservation Department. Previously, the true case values of these mines were used in setting their taxable amounts.

Also figuring in the lower assessments were the closing of the Bunker Hill and Maas mines and a continued reduction in underground reserves.

The Upper Peninsula now has a known underground supply of 80.73 million tons of iron ore, about 2.7 million tons less than last year, the department said.

A higher annual rate of production and the expansion of operations raised the specific tax from $636,316 last year to $844,248 in 1965 for beneficiation plants turning out high grade ore pellets and concentrates in Marquette and Dickinson counties.

The total value of copper mines was advanced to $16.32 million, topping the previous year by more than $1 million.

Ontonagon County's White Pine mine accounted for $12.55 million of the total. Copper mines in Houghton County carried an appraisal of $3 million and those in Keweenaw County of $765,000.

Bark River And Harris Renew Millage 6 To 1

Bark River-Harris School District voters on Friday gave a school tax millage proposal one of the strongest endorsements registered in an Upper Peninsula school financing election in recent years.

They voted 290 yes and 54 no—almost six to one—for renewal of a 3.5 mill extra levy for school operation for three more years. The millage had expired.

The renewal keeps the Bark River-Harris school tax total at 19.2 mills—11 of which is for operation and 8.2 for debt services. The district, which straddles the Menominee-Delta County line, comprising Bark River Township in Delta and Harris Township in Menominee, had repeated elections before it finally got voter approval for the attractive elementary school built west of Bark River in 1959.

Since then it has developed a new regard for the worth of schooling, which was shown in Friday's election. An active campaign preceded the vote, with Supt. Richard Hendra and the board of education members carrying the plea for renewal of the operating millage to the voters.

"I am very proud of our people," said Hendra. "This is a low income area and it is difficult for its people to pay this much for support of the schools. We hope that the state will revise its school aid formula so it helps more and eases the burden on these people."

"Our teachers try very hard to educate their children every day and the district showed its appreciation of this effort in Friday's election. In recent years we have had splendid leadership from the people in increasing support of schooling."

Tried To Avoid Crash That Hurt 10, Says Driver

Ten persons were injured and seven are still in St. Francis Hospital today as the result of a two-car crash that one of the drivers told State Police he was trying to avoid.

Two of the crash victims are in poor condition, one is listed as fair, and the others are apparently less seriously hurt. They are:

Airman First Class Normand V. Barselou, 25, the driver who said he sought to avoid the crash, apparently in good condition.

Casilda Barselou, 20, his wife, in poor condition.

Normand, their son, 2 years old, fair.

Glen Baldwin, 61, of Gladstone Rte. 1, driver of the other car carrying six passengers, released from the hospital after treatment last night. He suffered head cuts.

Mary Baldwin, 45, his wife, apparently in good condition.

Casper Baldwin, 75, of Ensign, father of Mrs. Baldwin, condition poor.

Rose Reinwin, 73, his wife, condition good.

Jeanette Baldwin, 17, their daughter, reported today as conscious.

Kay Cartwright, 17, Gladstone Rte. 1, released from the hospital.

Richard Ebbesen, 18, of 401 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, released from the hospital.

The three young people are Gladstone High School seniors who were going to Milwaukee to take aptitude examinations. "No, there wasn't any warning," said Ebbesen, one of the Gladstone High School's basketball stars. "All at once the other car was right in front of us."

State Police of the Gladstone post said the crash occurred about 10 a. m. Friday. The cars met head-on in the southbound lane of traffic.

Airman Barselou, driving a small foreign car, was traveling north. Baldwin was traveling south.

Both cars were going about 35 miles an hour. The injuries would have been much more severe if the speed had been greater, State Police commented. Both cars were badly damaged.

Rabid Rodents Few In State

Young Michigan residents have yet to find their first rabid rodent, although they were bitten nearly 900 times last year by pet hamsters, squirrels, mice, rats, rabbits, gophers, and chipmunks, according to Dr. Donald Coohon, Michigan Department of Health veterinarian.

He said that a total of 893 examinations for rabies were performed on rodents by the Michigan Department of Health and Detroit City Health Department laboratories in 1964.

The most numerous species of rodent submitted for testing by worried parents was the hamster, with 261 examined. Next in frequency were squirrels, with 228 submitted for testing, followed by 182 mice and rats, 90 pet and wild rabbits, and 85 gophers and chipmunks.

"Not one of these animals was rabid," Dr. Coohon said.

However there were 59 confirmed cases of rabid animals, including 29 skunks, 11 dogs, 7 cats, 6 cows, 4 bats, a fox, and a horse, he said.

So far this year 10 cases of rabies have been found, including three cows, three skunks, three dogs, and one horse.

Miami's Needs

It is human for Upper Peninsulans to look at other areas of the nation that are bustling with business and to wish that the U.P. were more like them. It is helpful to the process of keeping such things in focus to cite some counsel given by one of the nation's most enterprising businessmen to a group of civic leaders of Miami, Fla., recently.

Miami is usually held up as an example of municipal gee-whiz when beer drinkers sit down to envy other cities. But Charles Revson, chairman of Revlon, Inc., the cosmetics makers who buy so much advertising, told the businessmen of the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce that they should have concern about Miami's directions in development. What he said applies to most American communities and should be of interest to persons ambitious for the progress of their home areas and apt to think that Miami has it "made."

Revson said that Miami hotels' ads in the New York Times project an image of the city as a place where you can take the sun, swim, and catch a fish or a night club act. And you can do it cheap. "This is pretty much the only projection of Miami we get to see in New York," said Revson "and around the rest of the country. We see only sunshine, night clubs and prices promoted—and you have so much more than that to tell us."

Using the experience he has gained with Revlon he urged on Miami two advertising campaigns. One to sell Greater Miami and maintain and increase a quality tourist trade, to run in newspapers and quality consumer magazines, underlining a fashionable image.

The second campaign he would run in newspapers and magazines read particularly by businessmen, talking not only of Florida climate, but of Florida opportunity, speaking of population not in terms of senior citizens, but in terms of high school and college graduates; of productivity, not in terms of slow pace under the warm sun, but of high output in a land of energy; speaking not of Miami hotels, but of Miami industries.

"The real future of Miami," said Revson "lies in the development of industry and jobs that are the foundation of a solid community. And to attract industry, the lure of slow paced living alone is no particular asset. Nobody wants to work in a playground. If the sun only attracts people who want to take it easy, industry isn't going to be very interested."

"There's nothing wrong with attracting tourists, but there is everything wrong with promoting it alone and to the exclusion of all other aspects of life in such a booming city."

"In Greater Miami your packaging strikes me as highly inconsistent. Your buildings, often beautiful individually, don't seem to have much to do with each other and sometimes areas seem a hodgepodge of different styles and ideas. Landscaping is lovely in spots, non-existent in others. . . . To establish a pattern of consistency you private citizens ought to establish some sort of Architectural Review Committee—with teeth in it."

It was done in Scottsdale, Arizona, where everything including gas stations must conform to the architectural point of view—or no gas. And Scottsdale is one of the fastest growing towns in America. There should be areas in all cities where signs and businesses that by their very nature must be eyesores are zoned out.

"Businessmen who are thinking of pulling up stakes in one location to migrate to another look for a state and city which can make their people proud. Many factors are involved. Educational facilities are high on the list. They want to know that their people's children could get a second-to-none education, first in free public schools and then in local and nearby colleges and universities."

"It would be vital that higher echelon personnel—chemists, scientists and other professional men—would feel at home. How can they enjoy singing 'That Old Gang Of Mine' unless they've got a gang? An egghead gang, that is?"

"Mediocre people may come just for sun—exceptional people need much more. They need the theater. They need art and music and dance. You must attract not just people, but exceptional, ambitious people."

"Businessmen sometimes have a tendency to think of the arts as something for the Ladies Guild. But experienced city builders know better. The arts are bankable. When Chance Vought moved from Connecticut to Texas they didn't only ask about labor supply, weather, financing resources and the other usual questions—they asked about the musical life in Dallas. Many of their key employees were mathematically oriented and mathematicians have traditionally been musically inclined. Dallas has a fine orchestra. Chance Vought moved."

"Houston hired James Johnson Sweeney from the famous Guggenheim Museum in New York and started making the art pages of Time and Life. Minneapolis started a repertory theater under Sir Tyrone Guthrie and the company plans to tour—telling the country that Minneapolis offers a balanced, civilized way of life."

"Here in Miami what is your situation with regard to this competition? I'm not commenting, I'm asking."

Coney Loss

Say San Francisco is junking its cable cars. Say Chicago is draining Lake Michigan. Say Boston is banning beans. But don't say New York is closing Coney Island.

But it is all too true. Unless a miracle intervenes, Steeplechase Park, Coney Island's famed 25-acre amusement park that has drawn millions of fun-seekers to Brooklyn's Atlantic coast over the past 60 years, will not reopen this summer.

Swimming pool and sea bathing facilities were abandoned last year. The closing of the park, due to declining business, virtually insures the eventual demise of whatever activities will remain at Coney Island.

Stark and still stands the thrilling parachute tower. Immobile and shrouded in gloom is "the world's largest Ferris wheel." Mournful is the cry of the lonely seagull. The site will however, make an excellent apartment house development.

RADIO CLUB PATROLS HIGHWAY

MIAMI (P) — Members of the Communications Radio Club of the Miami suburb of Hialeah spend weekend evenings patrolling a stretch of lonely Everglades highway. Before the service was started, a motorist who had trouble along the desolate 40-mile stretch of road was a long way from help. Now aid is as close as the microphone on the dashboard of a Communication Club member's car.

BARBS Finding The Way

By WALTER C. PARKES
After seeing a play, a woman we know said she had a wonderful time. She cried through three whole acts.

Junior got a good report card for a change and Mom is happy that at long last the school hired a good teacher.

A book called "Understand Women" is, unfortunately, available only in the original Greek. All books on that subject are Greek to us.

Women have long believed in lemons as beauty aids. Some of them believe so implicitly they end up marrying one.

Lord Said: "Say 'We'"

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Pronouns are symptoms. Listen to a person speak and the frequent use of "I" and "me" and "mine" reveal much about that individual. There is a story in the New Testament concerning a man who went into the church to pray. In the course of a two-sentence prayer he used the personal pronoun five times. No wonder he's described as having "prayed with himself."

Pronouns also reveal the nature of the community. Listen to men and women discuss the problems of their area of residence and you can soon tell whether that area has a proper inner security. The divisions between the "we" groups and the "they" groups are cleavages born of fears.

There is an old Indian proverb which reads, "Lord, help me to walk in my neighbor's moccasins for two weeks before I judge him." It's a good prayer. It takes a quality of inner security and abundant faith in eternal values to be able to feel empathetically.

Such writers as Fromm and Reisman have pointed out that selfish persons have none of this inner security nor do they have a proper sense of pride. A really selfish person has no pride in himself and therefore "must continually seek security in terms of conquests and the power to compensate for his lack of selflove. In other words the selfish person is not interested in himself, but only in others evaluation of himself. He shines in their reflected light, even when he dominates them."

That tragedy which has beset too many individuals has plagued communities and neighborhoods. Only those who have a proper understanding of self have the courage to adventure without fear. Watch someone who is afraid for himself and you usually see a person who doesn't respect himself. "A selfish person, if he is to change, needs to cultivate above all else a feeling of pride." The same is true of a city.

At the beginning of this lenten season it might be an excellent adventure for us simply to keep an eye on our pronouns. Wrote Karl Wilson Baker:

OUTDOORS BEST? MOSTAR, Yugoslavia (P) — Mujo Cmalic, now 91, has almost never slept in a house since he was a child. As a young shepherd he became accustomed to sleeping out in the hills with his flock in summer and in the sheep pen in winter. He has been doing it ever since and attributes his good health to never sleeping in stuffy rooms.

What My Faith Means To Me

By JOHN LUENEBURG
St. Stephen's Episcopal

My faith in God has helped our home life and everyday living, by working together in learning about God and what He expects of us, by regular attendance in His church.

I have attended Sunday services with Holy Communion and morning prayer and have also taken part in teaching Sunday School and learning with the children. Doing these things with help of God, I have solved many of my problems in everyday life and gained a better understanding of a Christian.

My faith was strengthened also by a ten-week course "Journey in Faith."

Stewardship is a very important word to a Christian. It involves not only money but our time and talents, and all our possessions for the love of Christ.

Evangelism is another important word. It means many things, but in the context of stewardship it means showing personal concern for people around us as members of the parish. It involves love and kindness with parent, with child, friend with friend, Christian with stranger.

A committed steward is more than anxious to share and witness experiences with others to help them in their spiritual life. A family that prays together stays together.

Letters To Ann Landers The Press Boys Inherit Father's Walk

SPORTSMANSHIP?

I took the opportunity last Saturday evening to attend the basketball tournament at Rock and I wonder what our game of basketball is getting to be.

The teachers and coaches of our school systems talk of sportsmanship and fair play, yet the students get into a basketball game and it is just the opposite.

I think something should be done about the referees of this great game before it goes the same way as wrestling and some of the other sports.

I know if the referees had called all the fouls committed in this game there would have been no players left on the floor, but the way they allowed this game to be played all the game lacked was the goal posts.

WOODS WORKERS

There have been many articles in the press and much discussion on the subject of lumberjacks and jobbing.

Each year it gets harder to find labor for woods work which makes a shortage of timber products, especially cedar. The shortage of help is not due to the lack of training but because woods workers can't make a decent living at that line of work any more.

For example, we get $21.50 per cord for rough balsam. Cutting costs about $6 per cord, hauling to Oconto Falls (the only mill that takes any amount) $6 per cord, skidding $3 per cord, state stampage $4 per cord. This comes to $19. That leaves $2.50 per cord to buy gas, oil, chains, chain saw, and take care of general expenses. We also have to locate our own timber, run lines, build roads, and plow snow on this $2.50. Where is the profit?

Since the Democratic party took office, the pulpwood market has dropped steadily and expenses have gone up. Trucks, with high license fees and insurance costs and now enforcement of federal tax, are out of reach of most jobbers. Tractors, a must in woods work, are sky high in price. Chain saws went up last year. The raise in prices are due to a raise in wages to the people who make them. We have to pay more for such things and get less for our products. A lot of men in this area know no other kind of work. This work is just a slow starvation. When will it level off or where does it leave the lumberjacks? Who can we look to for help?

her with the dishes, the laundry the cleaning—the whole bit.

Dear Ann Landers: We have two sons, 7 and 4 years of age. They both walk just like their father. Everyone thinks it is very cute because the walk is an unusual one—sort of a waddle, with toes pointed out.

A friend of mine said, "I'll bet your husband is flattered that his sons have imitated his walk. It's always a compliment to a father when his sons want to be just like him."

I told her the boys are not imitating their father's walk—they inherited it, the same way they inherited his strong jaw and small, flat ears. She insists I am wrong. Am I? Please print this letter because the loser takes the winner to lunch.—OPAL AND GERT

Dear O and G: Children do not inherit "a manner of walking" in the same way they inherit curly hair or blue eyes. What they DO inherit, however, is hip and bone construction which produces the walk. So enjoy your lunch, Dearie. You win the bet.

Dear Ann Landers: I need an ear this morning and my gripe is something you just don't talk over with the neighbors—so you're it.

I've kept house (laundry and all), raised three boys and held down a job since the day I married. Suddenly I am 50 years old and so tired I could die.

So help me, I have never once said to my husband, "Come and help me with my work. I've been helping you support the family all these years." But I'm ready to say it now.

What bothers me most of all is that my husband is giving our teen-age sons the idea that housework is strictly the wife's department. They refuse to do one thing to help me because they see how their father looks down his nose at dish-drying, carrying out the trash or even clearing the dishes off the table.

This is a cry for help, Ann. Am I wrong? —FRAZZLED FRANCES

Dear Frances: No, you aren't wrong, but you're awfully late. Women who work outside the home have every right to expect their husbands and children to give them a lift inside the home. The wife who brings in a check is helping her husband do his job and he should willingly and cheerfully help

Chrysler Pays Extra $376,700

DEROIT (AP) — President Lynn A. Townsend of Chrysler Corp. was awarded $376,700 in incentive compensation for 1964, Chrysler said in a proxy statement Friday.

This compared with Townsend's incentive compensation award of $255,200 for the year 1963.

Incentive compensation, or bonus, is payable to Chrysler officers and employees over a period of five years contingent on their remaining with the company and subject to other conditions.

Townsend's salary and fees for 1964 totaled $179,200, the proxy statement said. This compared with $168,367 for the prior year.

He also received $60,900 in 1964 in incentive compensation for prior years, compared with $9,860 paid to Townsend in 1963 in incentive compensation for prior years.

The incentive compensation to Townsend and other reflected Chrysler's improved profits position of last year, a boom year for the auto industry.

Chrysler had all-time record earnings of $213.8 million, equal to $5.46 a share, as compared with $161.6 million or $4.19 a share for 1963.

Incentive awards for 1964 to all Chrysler's officers and directors were $3,780,000, the proxy statement said. This compared with $2,884,400 in 1963.

George H. Love, board chairman, was awarded $253,000 in incentive compensation. He was paid $129,200 in salary and fees.

Incentive awards of $253,000 also were made to R.S. Bright, vice president-operations, and F. W. Misch, vice president-finance. John D. Leary, vice president-administration, was awarded $185,700.

A total of 3,535 officers and employees was awarded incentive compensation of $21,556,788. The previous year, 3,009 were awarded a total of $15,552,502.

The proxy statement, sent to Chrysler's more than 110,000 shareholders, announced the company's annual shareholders meeting will be held April 20 at the Chrysler Training Center in suburban Center Line.

Dirksen said in response to a question by Miller that he doesn't believe the Soviets are going to be cooperative in East-West trade relations or other matters and that "in the interest of our self respect, our world prestige, we are going to have to take a stand."

Some Notable Victories

"We have blown the trumpets of retreat entirely too long and it is just about time that we stand up and be counted," said the Illinois senator. "We have been the object of so much insult and slur on the part of the Soviet Union and these other countries, and that, of course, includes Red China.

"Well, if we ever expect to gain respect... it is just about time that we quit conceding and stand up on everything that involves something of a concession and say this is where we stop until we find out what kind of a reaction we are going to get from the other side."

Dirksen said that the United States made "a very inglorious retreat" when it did not force a showdown on depriving the Soviets of their vote in the United Nations because of their failure to pay peacekeeping assessments.

"What's going to happen to the United Nations and what will its future be if, in a crisis of this kind, we should back off and show the white feather and say, well, we won't quite insist upon the application of the penalty?" he asked.

"If the United Nations is going to live and live up to its hopes, you are going to have to do it. Otherwise, why should we contribute one third of virtually the whole cost of the United Nations and all of its subsidiary organizations."

Grinnell College Books Lectures By Eisenhower

GRINNELL, Iowa (AP) — Grinnell College, which two years ago heard from former President Harry S. Truman, soon will be listening to his successor.

Cedar Supply Need Is Called Steadier Jobs

The Upper Peninsula's shortage of cedar supply for lack of woods labor in a time of substantial unemployment in the area has brought suggestion of training efforts, but they drew a reaction today from woodcutters and from foresters that it's not that simple.

They say that the economic aspects of the problem must be solved, along with any technical shortcomings of the cutters. The training has been suggested as a means of upgrading logging skills and making logging more effective and better paid.

Roy E. Skog, U. P. Extension specialist in forestry of Michigan State University at Marquette, says "Setting up a short course to train woods workers without their having the opportunity to obtain reasonably steady and rewarding employment is likely to accomplish very little.

"The newspaper stories (about the cedar production shortage) do not mention that the generally low wages paid woods workers and the disadvantages associated with the intermittent nature of piecework, are probably as much a cause of the present labor shortage as anything else.

"If this problem is to be attacked, it might be on the basis of a short course that would not only train woods workers in skills, safety and techniques,

Iraqi Soldiers Moving On Kurds

LONDON (AP) — Sources in close touch with Baghdad say five Iraqi divisions are poised on the edge of the vast mountain territory held by Kurdish tribes in northern Iraq.

The Kurds, led by Mullah Mustafa Barzani, have staved off campaigns by three successive Iraqi governments since 1961. They demand self rule in the north, a share in Iraq's oil wealth and other revenues, and a United Nations or international guarantee for their autonomy.

DeMolay Week Is Proclaimed

Mayors George W. Rusch of Escanaba and Raymond P. Norton of Gladstone have proclaimed next week, March 14-20, as DeMolay Week in their respective cities in observance of the 46th anniversary of the organization's founding.

The anniversary will be celebrated in Delta County by Delta Chapter, which is composed of young men from Escanaba and Gladstone and is sponsored by Delta Lodge 195, F.&A.M.

The local chapter will have displays in windows of retail stores in Escanaba and Gladstone next week.

The Order of DeMolay, an international youth organization open to boys from ages 14 to 21, was founded in 1919 by Frank S. Land, director of the social service department of the Scottish Rite Temple, Kansas City, Mo.

It takes its names from Jacques DeMolay, the last Grand Master of the medieval Knights Templar, who died a martyr's death in 1314 in France.

Since its founding, DeMolay has grown to more than 2,500 active chapters. Nearly three million boys have been members.

DeMolay membership is open to any boy between the ages of 14 and 21 who meets requirements of good character and believes in God. The Order is a non-profit corporation with international offices in Kansas City, Mo.

DeMolay's slogan is "Building Better Citizens."

Chippewa Sap Flows; Start Here Is Near

A light flow of maple sap in Chippewa County was reported this week by Roy Skog, Michigan State University extension forester, and Delta County area producers of maple syrup were ready to get out their drills and hang their bucks, but still awaiting D-Day.

No tapping has started here, but next week will probably bring a start. Syrup producers don't like to start tapping until they're quite sure that the flow will be sustained as they get a dry hole condition sometimes with a false start. They watch the forecasts closely to guide their start of operations, looking for sustained warmth.

Skog said that producers were hanging buckets in Chippewa County March 8-9 and had a light flow. This year's maple syrup making in the Upper Peninsula is marked by a growing interest in this old industry.

Michigan State University has pointed the abundance of sugar maples in the U. P. and the incomes which have been developed by other producing areas like New England and Wisconsin in this business. The industry is changing like others under modern influences and the creation of central evaporator plants which take the sap from many sugar bush operators is increasing.

Skog addressed the recent maple syrup institute at Quinnesec sponsored for MSU and said that sugar maples with large crowns usually produce sweetest sap and that roadside trees are usually champs for

Little Tuscola To Get Bridge

TUSCOLA (AP)—It shouldn't be too long before school children in this tiny community of 200 no longer will have to go 14 miles out of their way to get to classes because there is no bridge across the Cass River.

Rebuilding of the bridge which collapsed last August is scheduled to start Monday. Raff and Dexter, a Lansing contracting firm, moved in equipment Friday to start the rebuilding.

Shortly after the old bridge collapsed, the foundation for the new structure was laid; abutments and piers were set and the promise of one-lane traffic by last Jan. 1 made by the contractor appeared possible. But then work stopped and nothing was done, despite numerous complaints by the citizens, until Friday when the equipment rolled in.

With the bridge out, life became difficult in Tuscola.

Floyd Hoover, owner of the Cass River Lumber Co., said that without the bridge "we are being strangled."

He said several farmers who own property on both sides of the river "haven't even been able to get a manure spreader over the river" and spring planting is only weeks away.

Members of the community have to drive about five miles one way or seven miles the other in order to reach a point where they can cross the river and get from one side of the village to the other.

And school children whose homes are only a few blocks from classes when there is a bridge have had to take a 14 mile trip to get to school without the bridge.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Advanced education and specialized training are becoming more and more important in our technically-oriented world. In many fields of work a high school diploma is just not enough. For many high school graduates, however, a college degree is neither practical nor desirable.

An ever-increasing number of these students are looking to the community and junior college, a relative newcomer in education, for their training. In Michigan alone, nearly 40,000 students are enrolled in the state's 18 public community and junior colleges. In addition, some 3,500 are enrolled in the 11 private junior colleges and technical institutes.

The majority of these students are enrolled in one of three curricula: a semi-professional training course running two years or less, the first two years of a four-year curriculum leading to the bachelor's degree, or a general liberal education program.

Recently the community and junior colleges have been called on to act as retraining centers for workers who have lost their jobs to automation. The two-year schools have also proved valuable as continuing education centers for people who must keep abreast of current developments in their field.

The community and junior colleges can be the answer to many of our educational problems—they can take some of the load off the universities; they can provide a quality education for those who do not wish to pursue a degree; and they can serve as educational and cultural centers for the entire community.

Soo Hill PTA Has Business Program Meeting

The March Soo Hill Elementary School PTA meeting opened with room visitation. Blackboards and hallway display areas depicted the advent of spring.

The union flag salute opened the business meeting which was conducted by the president, Mrs. Stanley Johnson. Sixty-seven of the 103 members were present. Richard Shilney's fifth grade won the attendance award for the fourth consecutive meeting.

Mrs. John Whitney reported that candy sales had been completed, enabling the PTA to use a portion of the earned funds for much needed school equipment.

An invitation was extended by the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's club for all interested persons to attend the April 10 meeting in Marquette, which includes a tour of the new high school and a visit to the Upper Peninsula's only Planetarium.

Slate Of Officers

Jay C. Jennings reported that the committee studying the ice rink program felt the present location was undesirable.

Mrs. Carl Mattson, chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Leonard Van Drese and Mrs. David Anderson, presented the following slate of officers for the ensuing year: president, Mrs. John Whitney; 1st vice president, Mrs. Lester Kamin; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Stanley Benoit; secretary, Mrs. Lillian DeCair; treasurer, Mrs. Marvin Anderson; publicity, Mrs. Jay C. Jennings; assistant publicity, Mrs. Robert Cappeart; membership, Mrs. Leonard Van Drese; Historian, Mrs. Richard Johnson; lunch committee, Mrs. Paul Horst; program chairman, Mrs. Hubert Irving; Council delegates, Mrs. Paul Bolm, Mrs. Gary Barton; alternate delegate, Mrs. Louis Buehler.

The project committee report was given by Mrs. Lester Kamin. This committee, consisting of Principal Floyd Cassidy, Mrs. John Stiglitz, Mrs. Robert Cappeart and Mrs. Stanley Benoit, authorized to purchase needed playground equipment.

Principal Cassidy reported on the desirability of participation in the Educational Television Pilot program, which emanates from Northern Michigan University. However this program will only be available to areas served by the TV cable.

Art prints, available at the Escanaba Public Library for a nominal fee, were felt to be an integral part of a well balanced educational program. Mrs. Cappeart will arrange for placement of the prints in the school classrooms. Recommendations were suggested for eliminating a potentially dangerous water hole in the playground area.

Dr. Hockstad, Speaker

Dr. Raymond Hockstad, speaker of the evening, was introduced by Mrs. Van Drese. An Escanaba physician, Dr. Hockstad informed the group that "Sex is not learned by education, but is an attitude that develops gradually and steadily from birth in the same manner that love develops. Love cannot be taught by purposeful instruction. It is learned over the years by a show of parental love."

"Curiosity should be treated normally without undue parental attention. Questions should be answered simply and directly. Curiosity and questions concerning sex are more prevalent through six years of age. From this age until puberty, interest wanes. During puberty, parental instruction is important, along with additional information from advised books and pamphlets.

"Anxieties and spasms of insecurity are very evident at adolescence and adults must set values for adolescents to follow. Boundless energies during this period must have guidance," continued Dr. Hockstad.

"Parents must reassure youth concerning normal body functions, alleviate unnecessary anxieties," concluded Dr. Hockstad.

Names of numerous books and pamphlets for guidance for both parents and children of all ages, were given by Dr. Hockstad.

Teens' Clothes Change As Their Role Changes

EAST LANSING—Femininity, confidence and maturity distinguish the dressed-up teenage girl. But the girls find slacks and bermudas more comfortable.

In a study, conducted at Michigan State University, researchers found that clothes affect the behavior of teenage girls and that they change with their roles and activities.

Dr. Joanne Elcher and Betty M. Wass interviewed 152 ninth grade girls in a suburban Midwest high school. The girls indicated the clothing they thought was most appropriate for the roles which they assumed frequently. These roles included the student at school, at home, at sports events and at church.

The girls in the study showed conformity in dress, but they also had decisive ideas about what items of clothing were appropriate for their various roles.

The girls indicated that choices in footwear changed the most from role to role. Most girls wore flats or heels for church, while loafers were chosen for school, home or sports events.

The researchers found that a wide range of clothes were indicated as ideal. However, only one or two items of clothing were actually chosen for a certain role. The actual dress worn by the girls was even more limited than their ideal choices.

The researchers attributed the discrepancies between the ideal and actual clothing patterns to current fashion trends. For example, in 1962 current fashions included coats with racoon collars and pleated skirts. But, the girls were wearing plain collared coats and straight skirts popular a few years earlier.

The girls also indicated that certain roles required clothing that was specific—to the point that if they did not have the right apparel they did not take part in the activity. For example, a formal dance calls for a formal party dress.

Twenty per cent of the girls indicated that they had gone somewhere and were uncomfortable because their dress was inappropriate.

Shamrock Pie

SHAMROCK PIE with mint filling for St. Pat's Day.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

After the corned beef and cabbage traditional St. Patrick's Day dinner, try this Shamrock Bonbon Pie with its light, creamy green mint filling. And those chocolate shamrocks on top — sure, any good Irishman would be proud to eat them.

SHAMROCK BONBON PIE (Serves 6-8)

Bonbon Pie Shell
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
2 tablespoons shortening
Line 9-inch pie plate with 12-inch square of aluminum foil; press foil over bottom, sides, and rim to assume shape of plate. Carefully lift foil from plate, keeping shape. Place pie plate in refrigerator to chill. Place foil on baking sheet; sprinkle morsels evenly over the bottom. Place in 350 degree oven for 3 minutes; remove from oven and carefully replace foil in chilled pie plate. Add shortening; blend together chocolate and shortening with back of teaspoon. (If necessary, chill 3 to 5 minutes, until chocolate mixture becomes stiff enough to spread without running.) With spoon, spread chocolate mixture over bottom and sides of pie plate, covering about 1/2 of rim. Place in refrigerator for 30 minutes, until firm. Carefully peel foil from chocolate; slip back into pie plate. Return to refrigerator while preparing filling.

Mint Filling
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar, divided
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 1/4 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon peppermint flavoring

1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Green food coloring
Mix gelatin, 1/4 cup sugar, and salt in medium saucepan. Beat together egg yolks and milk; stir into gelatin mixture. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in peppermint flavoring. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; gradually add remaining 1/4 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture; fold in whipped cream. Add enough green food coloring to make delicate green shade. Turn into Bonbon Pie Shell. Chill until firm. Arrange Chocolate Shamrocks on pie.

CHOCOLATE SHAMROCKS

1/4 cup semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1/4 teaspoon shortening
Melt semi-sweet morsels and shortening in cup over hot (not boiling) water. Spread on piece of foil on baking sheet to 3 x 4-inch rectangle. Chill until firm. Cut out 6 shamrocks with cutter, or use small heart cutter. Cut out 3 hearts to be placed together as the 3 leaves for each shamrock, and cut out stems with knife. Carefully remove cut-outs to another piece of foil and return to refrigerator to chill thoroughly again before placing on pie. This keeps cut-outs from melting while they are handled.

New Boots Are Like Sausages

By AP News Features
Sausage boots don't sound sexy, especially since they are made from the same fabric used in girdles. But they are.

Designed by David Evans, the sausage boot is actually a black leather shoe with lycra leggings attached to it. Naturally, it clings to every curve with the tenacity of a meat casing. And if the leg has more shape to it than a sausage, well, the effect is attractive.

Another new shoe in the Evans stable is the goo-goo sandal. It's the same T-strapped, perforated kind little girls still wear, and made on the same type of last.

Trout Creek, St. Paul Win

Redskins Sidelined In Class D Tourney

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

MARQUETTE—A towering Trout Creek quint erased Hermansville from the regional Class D tournament list here Friday afternoon, 66-46.

Coach Bruce Warren's Anglers will be back in Northern Michigan University Fieldhouse tonight to battle unbeaten Negaunee St. Paul in the title contest. St. Paul edged Mass 60-55 in the other semifinal tilt Friday.

Coach Don Hill's Hermansville cagers were overpowered on the boards by a tall and talented Angler team. Pacing the Porcupine Mountain Conference runnerup outfit was Bob Gale, a classy 6 foot 5 inch junior, who speared countless rebounds and chucked in 25 points.

Povolo Scores 19
Ron Povolo, Hermansville's Upper Peninsula scoring champion, kept the Redskins in the game during the first period in which he tallied his team's first nine points and 11 of their total for the quarter which ended 18-13 for Trout Creek.

Even the deadeye Povolo, however, was unable to maintain that pace as the Anglers used their height to excellent advantage on the boards, on defense and on all jump ball situations. Povolo finished his brilliant prep career with a 19 point production, boosting his season total to 742 and his career record to 1,968.

Povolo is only the seventh player in Upper Peninsula prep history to score over 700 points in a single season and his career mark is the third highest in Upper Peninsula history. Trout Creek put it away in the early minutes of the second half as Gale and John Gerber hammered in seven field goals. The Anglers had a 17 point lead entering the final period and added 10 straight points in the first three minutes of the fourth quarter. Gerber finished with 14 points and Bill Besonen tallied 10 to give Trout Creek three double-digit scorers. Povolo was the only Hermansville player to reach double figures.

St. Paul Pressed
Coach Gordy LeDuc's Negaunee St. Paul team had a rugged time recording its 22nd straight victory, over Mass. The teams fought to a 10-10 standoff in the first quarter. St. Paul had a slim 29-26 edge at the half. Mass spurred for a 45-43 lead at the end of the third frame. And the Rockets led by three, 52-49, with five minutes to go in the game.

Dom Jacobetti, a splendid senior, put on a superb performance to make the difference for St. Paul. He made 10 of Negaunee's last 16 points, including two field goals and two free throws that put his club ahead to stay, 57-52, with 2:22 remaining.

Jacobetti fired in 30 points for the night to raise his season total to 693 and his career mark to 2,092. His career total is second only to Jim Manning's 2,137 all-time record. George Torreano, Jacobetti's running mate at guard, gave him solid support with 13 points, including several long distance bombs.

Win From FT Line
Mass presented a balanced attack led by Bill Savella with 16 points. Ted Hoiska, a 5 foot 6 inch sophomore, almost stole the show for the Rockets with a tremendous driving performance which produced four field goals. He added six gift shots for 14 points.

St. Paul needed a deadly shooting exhibition from the free throw line to shake the stubborn Rockets. The Emeralds were outscored by one field goal, 21 to 20, but tossed in 20 of 23 gift shots, including eight straight by Jacobetti. Mass was able to connect on only 13 of 25 from the line.

Against St. Paul's 22-0 record Saturday night, Trout Creek will carry a 17-5 record into the finals.

Rudyard Meets Flivver Quint For 'B' Honors

MARQUETTE—Defense-minded Rudyard and the run-and-gun Kingsford Flivvers will clash for the Upper Peninsula Class B basketball championship here tonight before another jammed crowd at the Northern Michigan University Fieldhouse.

Rudyard, bidding for its third straight Peninsula pennant, sidelined a dangerous Ishpeming outfit by a 44-40 margin in a Friday night semifinal game that went strictly according to the book.

Kingsford, shooting for a double crown after capturing the U. P. football championship last fall, slammed Ironwood 71-55 in the nightcap Friday.

Coach Bill Howes' Bulldogs showed why they had the best defensive record in the Upper Peninsula this season as they held Ishpeming to six field goals in the first half while building a 29-19 cushion.

In the third quarter an Ishpeming zone press began to bother the Bulldogs who made only two field goals in eight minutes. They still held a 36-28 advantage entering the fourth frame.

The Hematites brought a partisan crowd roaring to its feet with a furious rally that knotted the score at 36-36 with three and a half minutes to go. But a pair of corner jumpers by Harold McDonnell and Charley Johnson and a rebound tip-in by newcomer Al Kish put Rudyard ahead 42-36 with 1:30 remaining and the Hematites were helpless.

Veteran Al Morehouse hit 11 points and dominated the boards with his 6 foot 4 inch stretch while Kish, a senior playing ball for the first time this season and a starter only recently, matched his total. Guard Rick Crews contributed 10 for the Bulldogs.

Sophomore Bill Zhulke of Ishpeming took scoring honors with 17 points. Morehouse held Doug Pertunen to one field goal and six free throws for eight points.

Coach Gordy Farragh's Flivvers buried Ironwood early in their contest, ripping off a 12-4 lead in the first four minutes of the game and leading 22-11 after one quarter.

Although the Red Devils cut their deficit to 39-30 at the half, they were never in the contest after that. Kingsford ran up 14 straight points in the third quarter to spread the margin to 53-30 and it was all over.

Eben Fouls Pave Pickford Victory

ST. IGNACE—Eben's Central League champion Eagles discovered Friday night that field goals don't always win basketball games and bowed out of Class D regional basketball competition here.

The Eagles, carrying a 19-1 record into the game, were out of the free throw line 26-15 and dropped a 68-65 edicision to Eastern Conference champion Pickford.

Devlin Overtakes Sanders In Doral Golf Invitational

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—For Bruce Devlin it would be the first sweet taste of victory in a long, long year. For Doug Sanders it would mean the rare and heady satisfaction of back-to-back triumphs. And for Bob Shave it would be a dramatic jump from the bottom to the top of the pack.

These are the things the $11,000 first prize in the $70,000 Doral Invitational Tournament would mean to the men who stood 1-2-3 at the halfway mark today.

Devlin hasn't won a tournament since this same week last year, when he broke through for his first American title at St. Petersburg.

Launching his round with an eagle and two birdies in rapid succession, Devlin fired a five-under-par 67 for a 36-hole total of 135, dumping Sanders, who shot a course record-breaking 65 on opening day, back into second position Friday.

Sanders slumped to a 71 for 136 and Shave moved into a challenging position with a 69 for 137.

Western Tankers Make Title Bid

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan's Ron Poholski kept the Broncos in contention for their third straight Mid-American Conference swimming title Friday by whipping through the 200-yard freestyle in a record 1:50.8.

After two days of competition, Western trails pre-meet co-favorite Ohio University 77-73. Poholski, of Dearborn, is the only swimmer to crack a meet record so far. He set a new mark in the 500-yard freestyle Thursday.

Seven final events are scheduled today.

Pickford will meet Gaylord St. Mary for the Regional championship tonight. St. Mary advanced with a 61-57 triumph over Pellston, a team coached by former Escanaban Tom. St. Germain.

With 6-2 senior Bill Carlson providing the spark, Eben grabbed a 16-15 edge after one quarter but with Carlson watching from the bench with fouls Pickford eased ahead 35-34 at the half and held the lead the rest of the way.

Eben closed to one point midway in the fourth quarter, but was unable to get over the top.

The Panthers fired in 26 of 30 free throws, including 11 of 12 by Roger Hower and 10 of 11 by Gary Skinner to stay in front. Eben connected on only 15 of 25 gift shots, though the Eagles had a 25-21 edge in field goals.

John Bennin paced the Panthers with 20 points on 10 field goals, most of them on long out-court shots.

Carlson connected for 29 points and Andy Freberg had 20 for Eben.

Three Defending State Cage Champions Remain In Field

By The Associated Press

Time is running out for the few remaining teams in the Michigan High School basketball tournament who still have their sights set on a state championship.

None of the three remaining defending champions appear ready to give up their titles, although perennial Class D king River Rouge had to scramble to stay alive in regional play Friday night.

Benton Harbor, the defending Class A champion and top-ranked this year, bombed Hastings, 98-56, in its first regional appearance.

River Rouge broke out to a 20-8 lead at the end of the first quarter, then had to hang on to down Jackson St. John, 56-50. It was also Rouge's first regional game.

Grosse Pointe St. Paul, the defending Class C champion, was idle.

Win Regionals

Four regional champions were crowned, two each in Class A and D.

Dearborn Fordson edged Jackson 55-50, and Walled Lake surprised Ypsilanti, 67-60, in the Class A title games.

Leland, with Dick Ance potting 28 points and Walt Schlueter 21, downed Kingsley, 79-57.

Cards-Mets Open Exhibition Card

By The Associated Press

Baseball bounded in like a lion today, with all 20 major league clubs touching the bases and a new field boss sending the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals through their initial paces against the upstarts who almost closed last October's hit show before it opened.

Red Schoendienst made his managerial debut as the Cardinals took on Casey Stengel's mystifying New York Mets in one of 12 pre-season games in Florida, Arizona, California and Mexico that opened full-scale spring competition.

Al Jackson, the little left-hander who helped the Cardinals to a final-game showdown in last year's National League pennant race, and veteran southpaw Curt Simmons, St. Louis' starter in that climactic game, were the pitching opponents in the St. Petersburg, Fla., opener.

Jackson blanked the Cardinals 1-0 in the first game of the three-game, season-ending series between the clubs last year. The Mets took the second game 15-5 before St. Louis nailed the pennant on the final day with an 11-5 victory.

The New York Yankees, with Schoendienst's predecessor, Johnny Keane, in command of the club his Cardinals defeated in the 1964 World Series, met the ambitious Baltimore Orioles at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The city of Vero Beach, Fla., planned to throw in the ballpark when the Los Angeles Dodgers entertained Milwaukee. In pre-game ceremonies, Mayor Jack Sturgis was to present L.A. President Walter O'Malley the deed to Dodgertown's 110 acres, making the Dodgers the first club to own their spring training base.

The Houston Astros met Kansas City at Cocoa, Fla., where they dropped an 11-2 decision to Minnesota Friday as Bob Turley's pitching comeback got off to a troubled start. The former Yankee stalwart, signed as a free agent after coaching Boston Red Sox pitchers last season, was clipped for six runs in 1-13 innings.

Other Citrus and Cactus circuit pairings today included Cincinnati vs. Chicago White Sox at Sarasota, Fla.; Pittsburgh vs. Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla.; Minnesota vs. Detroit at Orlando, Fla.; Chicago Cubs vs. Boston at Mesa, Ariz., and Cleveland vs. San Francisco at Tucson, Ariz.

Cleveland split its squad, with a second unit meeting a Los An-

Eskymos Eliminated By Ottawa 82-58

GRAND RAPIDS — A big, strong and amazingly accurate Ottawa Hills high school team caught fire late in the first half, then gunned in 68 per cent of its shots after intermission to blow Escanaba's youthful Eskymos out of Class A regional basketball competition Friday, 82-58.

Ottawa will meet Muskegon Heights, winner over Rapids

Central 82-76, for the right to advance into next week's quarterfinal round of the Michigan High School tournament.

The Eskymos, one licking and a tournament wiser, will return to Escanaba Sunday already looking ahead to next year.

Friday, once Ottawa got started, they just didn't have enough.

"We did the best job we could do," said coach Harold Johnson. "We've had better nights in shooting, but we've never tried any harder. It was just a question of being out-gunned."

Take Lead

After taking a 15-12 lead after one quarter, Escanaba saw Ottawa take command with superb display of offensive rebounding and a jump shooting off the fast break in the middle two periods.

The Hills, with 6-3 forwards Virtlee Trice and Mike Coleman and 6-5 center Ben Johnson tapping in anything missed from outside, rammed in 23 points in the second quarter to seize a 35-25 halftime edge and blazed away for 31 more in the third period for a 66-37 bulge after three quarters.

In the second half, Ottawa pumped in 19 of 28 shots from the floor to offset a cold first period. Ottawa finished the evening with 33 field goals in 68 attempts.

Escanaba, with 6-5 sophomore center Dave Nyquist resting on the bench with three personal fouls for most of the first half, took only 49 shots and hit 21.

Foul Trouble

Nyquist returned to duty in the second half and completed the night with 13 points to pace the Eskymos offense before fouling out of the game in the fourth quarter.

Paul Meunier connected on five field goals for 10 points as the only other Eskymo to reach double figures.

Coach Johnson, who all season has used his underclassmen in starting and top-line reserve roles, used his entire team of 14 players last night and got strong performances from Ray Anderson and Bob Myrvall in limited duty. Anderson netted seven points and Myrvall five.

Ottawa's 6-5 Johnson led both teams with 22 points, but it was 5-11 guard John Pierucki who put the finishing touches on the Hills' third quarter splash.

Pierucki, hitting on short jump shots from around the basket and wedding a lethal weapon with his driving lay-ups, canned six baskets in the third quarter and finished with 19 points. Trice connected on 18 in the ballanced Ottawa attack.

Wolverines Face Vanderbilt

U-M Blasts Dayton

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Top-ranked Michigan and fifth-ranked Vanderbilt met tonight to decide the championship of the NCAA Mid-East regional basketball tournament.

The Wolverines, 22-3, beat Dayton 98-71 and the Commodores, 24-4, edged DePaul 83-78 in an overtime in Friday's games. The losers meet in a consolation game tonight.

Vanderbilt Coach Roy Skinner, whose Southeastern Conference champs were outbounded by a smaller DePaul, 49-43, says he's worried about Michigan's strength on the backboards.

"If we don't hit 'em any harder than we did against DePaul," Skinner says, "there will be no comparison between us and Michigan."

Michigan's 6-7 Bill Buntin stole the show against Dayton with 26 points and 11 rebounds. He also held Dayton's high scoring 6-11 Henry Finkel 14 points before leaving the game with

Lakers Corral Western Title

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers Friday night whisked away the second National Basketball Association division crown won in San Francisco this season.

The Lakers won the NBA's Western Division title with a 115-93 victory, marking the San Francisco Warrior's 15th straight home court loss and their 61st defeat of the season, one short of tying an NBA record.

The Boston Celtics, who clinched the Eastern Division title Feb. 26 in San Francisco, lost to Cincinnati 118-108 in Friday's other NBA game.

The Lakers' Jerry West scored 33 points against the Warriors and Elgin Baylor dunked in 32.

Center Nate Thurmond and guard Guy Rodgers shared high point honors for the Warriors, with 25 points each.

Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas sparked a second period Cincinnati surge that helped the Royals overcome an early Boston lead.

Robertson's 37 points topped all scorers and he added 14 assists. Lucas had 28 points and 24 rebounds. Sam Jones' 32 points led the Celtics.

Dress-Up Study Continues For Downtown Area

A meeting of the merchants committee and city officials will be held prior to adoption of the city's budget, to further consider downtown store improvements and parking lots.

The city manager has been asked to determine which areas back of stores are to be black-topped and if it is desired that the city serve as agent for the blacktopping, with the work to be done when the city blacktops the alley. This would be for the westside of the S. Cedar 200 block.

On the eastside of the 200 block, an area is also to be surfaced with long-term leases arranged for off-street parking.

The city manager has been asked to draw specifications for the metal canopy to be used in the business district, so firms participating will know how much is involved for their properties.

The effort is a joint one of the businessmen and the city in an effort to enhance attraction of the business area. Villan-Leman Associates, who are preparing a master plan for the city in a federal grant project, are assisting.

'Detour' Of Ore Shipping Success

A mid-winter "detour" for iron ore shipments — usually halted for three months by ice in the upper Great Lakes — has been worked out by Ford Motor Co.'s Steel Division.

The transportation experiment proved successful during the severest winter weather, according to C. William Conn, general manager of the Steel Division.

Ford transported 50,000 tons of iron ore pellets by rail and ferry-boat from Humboldt, in the Upper Peninsula, to its Rouge steel facilities in Dearborn.

The route was from Humboldt, near Marquette, to Manistique by rail; across Lake Michigan by ferryboat to Frankfort, and by rail to Dearborn.

Ore from the Marquette region normally is shipped on Ford's fleet of ore carriers via Lake Superior, the Soo Locks, Lake Huron and Lake St. Clair to the Detroit area. Ice closes the route from December to March.

Mr. Conn said the "detour" experiment indicated that future rail and ferry shipments can reduce greatly the need for stockpiling large quantities of ore for the winter months.

Nearly 80 per cent of Ford's iron ore requirement is supplied by concentrated pellets and one-fourth of that amount comes from the Humboldt plant. The pellets measure about three-eighths of an inch in diameter and contain approximately 65 per cent iron.

Ford Motor Co. is the only automobile manufacturer with its own steel plant to supply steel companies.

Rood Is Named Co-Chairman For Michigan Week

David Rood, co-publisher of the "Pioneer Tribune," Manistique, along with Jack Dempsey, program director for WLUC-TV at Marquette will be the co-chairman for publicity for the 12th Annual Michigan Week, observance.

Rood and Dempsey will be responsible for organizing publicity of the Region II for Michigan Week and will be assisted by six county publicity chairmen.

Region II is in the central part of the Upper Peninsula, including the Counties of Delta, Schoolcraft, Alger, Marquette, Menominee and Dickinson.

Rood graduated from Constantin (Mich.) High School in 1944. He received a B. A. Degree from Michigan State University in 1950; served from 1944 to 1946 in the U. S. Army Signal Corps with the 81st Division in the South Pacific; and from 1945 until 1961 he was publisher of the Galien River Gazette at Three Oaks, Mich.

Inland Chief Hints Need Of Steel Increase

Higher steel prices "may be needed from time to time if steel is to take its place among those industries which make an adequate return on invested capital," Joseph L. Block, chairman of Inland Steel Co., told stockholders in the company's annual report.

"Based on earnings related to capital investment, steel has been a laggard in comparison with manufacturing industry generally," Block said.

In 1963, the most recent year for which figures are available, the steel industry's return on net worth was 7.2 per cent, compared with 11.5 per cent for all industry. Only with an adequate earning capability "can our industry properly reward its stockholders, offer expanding employment opportunities and serve the needs of our growing and dynamic economy," said Block.

Inland's consolidated sales were $873 million, surpassing 1963's previous record by 8.1 per cent. Net earnings were $71 million or $3.91 a share, compared with 1963 earnings of $56 million ($3.11 a share) and $58 million ($3.45) in 1967, the previous record year.

Silver In Coins To Be Reduced
WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration may ask for controls on hoarding and melting of coins to accompany an expected change in silver coinage, authoritative sources said today.

An announcement is expected about April 15 on whether the government intends to eliminate silver, or reduce the amount used, in the production of coins, quarters and half-dollars. There is little chance that the silver content of coins will remain unchanged.

Treasury officials have said the present high rate of silver coin production — with no change in the percentage used in each coin — eventually will produce a shortage of the metal.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Exodus 18:13-23	Deuteronomy 3:9-13	John 13:12-20	Romans 10:14-21	Colossians 1:3-14	1 Timothy 4:6-16	Hebrews 5:7-14

We don't consider it eavesdropping to "hear" our children's prayers. Nor is it too much trouble! In fact, it is part of our responsibility to God.

For Mollie and Ted are His children, too. Parents are partners with—not substitutes for—our Heavenly Father.

It is this sense of partnership that has brought faith and the Church into the life of our family. We are not foolishly depending on our mere adulthood to inspire character in them. We do not command that they do what we say, not what we do. And we never sit at home while they are in Church, as though the truth they have gone to seek weren't worth a grownup's effort.

We figure God wants us at the listening post, to monitor their spiritual searchings, to share with them the blessings He has given us all.
